The Gund Fellows Arts Internship

Paid summer opportunity for college students

What is the Gund Fellows Arts Internship?

- Paid summer opportunity for current college juniors and seniors of all majors.
- Available in Baltimore, Cleveland and NYC.
- Gain hands-on experience at leading arts organizations.
- Build professional skills and make a meaningful impact.
- No prior arts internship experience required.

What professional experience will I gain?

- Work on real projects and day-to-day operations.
- Collaborate with arts professionals.
- Build communication, project management, research, and teamwork skills.
- Prepare for a wide range of career paths.

STUDIO IN A SCHOOL

How will this support my career?

- Build a professional network and gain mentorship.
- Explore connections between the arts, education, nonprofit management, marketing, and public policy.
- Clarify your goals and build confidence.

What qualities are you looking for?

- Curious, open-minded, and motivated.
- Interested in the arts and stronger communities.
- Ready to learn and collaborate.

How can I strengthen my application?

- Share what inspires you.
- Explain your arts interests.
- Be authentic and specific.

What careers could this lead to?

- Arts administration and education
- Curation and community engagement
- Marketing, policy, and programming

What other opportunities are available?

Artist Legacy Coalition internship
- Available in Baltimore and NYC.
- For current college seniors & post-grads.
- Explore legacy, archives, and arts education.

Applications open January 8, 2027 & close February 25, 2027

find out more at studioinaschool.org