

Changing Paper

Exploring Paper With Our Hands

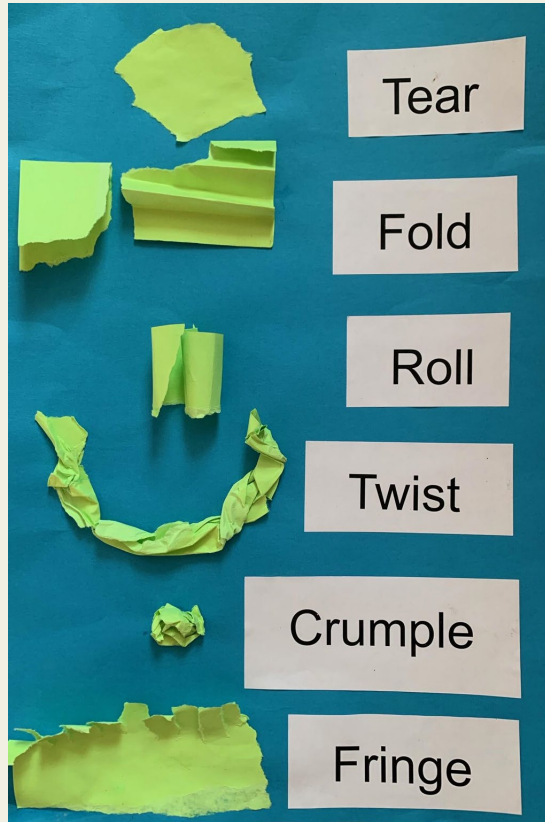

In this lesson, you will:

- Use your hands to change paper to make different shapes.
- You will then arrange the shapes in different ways on your paper.

You will need:

2 sheets of paper that are different colors

Exploring Paper With Our Hands: How Can We Change Paper?

Begin by choosing a piece of paper.
(construction paper, notebook paper, etc.)

What are the different ways we can change this paper using just our hands?

We can tear the paper.

We can fold the paper.

We can roll the paper.

We can twist the paper.

We can crumple the paper.

We can fringe the paper.

Exploring Paper With Our Hands: Tear, Fold, Roll

TEAR

FOLD

ROLL

Now you try...change the paper by just using your hands!

1. TEAR the paper to make a shape. Now try to tear a bigger shape.
2. Tear off another shape and FOLD it. You can fold it in half or back and forth to make a shape that looks like a fan.
3. Tear off another shape and ROLL it.
Now try that again with another piece of paper.

TWIST

CRUMPLE

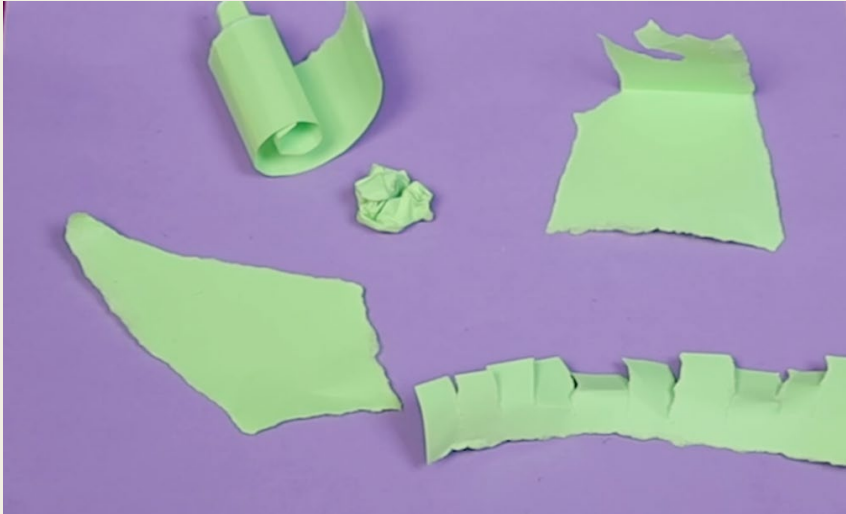

FRINGE

1. Tear off another shape and TWIST it.
2. Tear off another shape and CRUMPLE it. Now try to crumple a smaller shape.
3. Tear off another shape and FRINGE it.

Can you discover another way to change the paper using only your hands?

Exploring Paper With Our Hands: Arranging Shapes

Next, put all your shapes in a container, such as a bowl or plate.

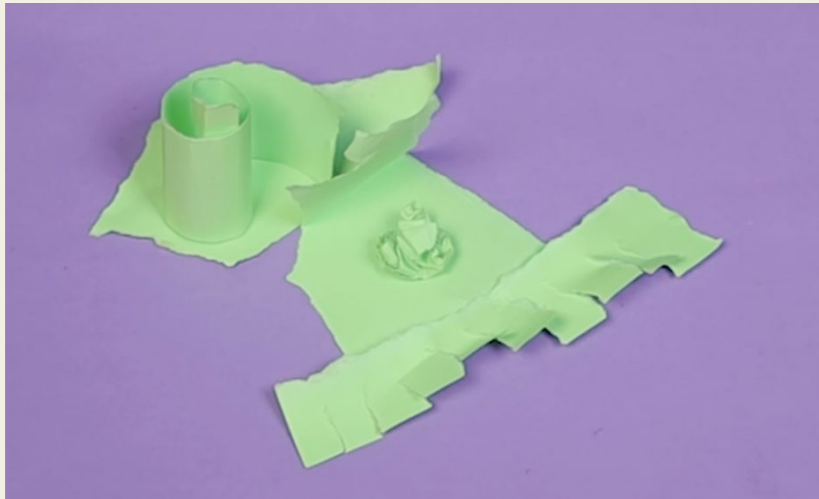

Take your second piece of paper to use as a background.

Choose any 5 shapes from your bowl and arrange them on your paper.

Are your shapes next to other shapes?

Do your shapes overlap?

Now, try again. Can you arrange your shapes on your paper a different way?

How did you change the paper?

How did you arrange your shapes on your background paper?

Remote Arts Learning Partnership

Module One

Studio in a School NYC Team

Julie Applebaum, Senior Director

Remote Arts Learning Partnership Project Director

Writing Team

Belinda Blum Bryan Melillo

Cynthia Chen Traci Talasco

Project Team

Belinda Blum Nicola Giardina Sassy Kohlmeyer

Andrea Burgay Katherine Huala Paul Urevitch

Graphic Design

Don Giordano

NYC Department of Education OASP Team

Karen Rosner, Director of Visual Arts

Amber Lodman, Arts Program Manager

Kaitlin Trammell, Remote Arts Learning Partnership Project Coordinator

These educational materials were created through a partnership with Studio in a School NYC and The New York City Department of Education Office of Arts and Special Projects (OASP) and made possible by the generosity of The New York Community Trust.

Copyright © 2021 Studio in a School NYC LLC